Padtec: Driving connections to create new realities

Padtec offers products and services that bring together and connect people, contributing to the development of society and the economy, and an increasingly sustainable world.

Over more than 20 years of history, the Company has played an important role in the development of advanced solutions for optical networks. And in 2023, with the launch of the new brand, it innovated the way to present itself to its different relationship audiences.

In Brazil and Latin America, Padtec is recognized by the market for its contributions to the evolution of technologies, products, and services related to high-capacity data transmission, being the only one that develops DWDM products in the country and the Latin American region. A survey conducted in 2H23 by an independent company specialized in data analysis and competitive intelligence with customer representatives indicated that the level of overall satisfaction with the Company grew for the 6th consecutive year. Based on the Net Promoter Score methodology, Padtec achieved an NPS index of +77, the best result in its history, positioning the Company in the Zone of Excellence according to this methodology.

The evaluation of growth options - organic and inorganic - is part of Padtec's daily routine, which seeks alternatives to accelerate its value generation, either through more sales in the Brazilian, or Latin American markets (an example of this was the opening of the commercial office in Peru announced in 1Q23) and in other geographical borders or the development of complements to the product and service lines that are already offered in the Company's portfolio.

Thus, as part of its commitment to technological innovation and as a result of massive investments in research and development, in January 2023 Padtec launched a new DWDM solution: the dual disaggregated transponder (or standalone), with SDN (Software Defined Network) management, which offers high data transmission capacity – up to 400 Gb/s per optical channel, or 800 Gb/s in total – over short and medium distances, with fast and simplified installation and low energy consumption, in a mechanics of only 1U in height. With this equipment, the Company meets the needs presented by internet service providers (or ISPs) for the improvement of their networks, which seek a combination of better operational performance with availability and flexibility for rapid expansion at a more affordable cost.

In September, Padtec announced a new product platform for DWDM networks developed to meet the demands of increasing transmission capacity, due to the greater use of applications and services: the LightPad Max. This complete line of new generation transponders and very high data transmission capacity, with up to 1.2 Tb/s per optical channel (or 2.4 Tb/s in total), in a mechanics of only 1U in height, is scheduled for launch in 1H24. Among the objectives of the LightPad Max is the reduction of the cost per bit transmitted in coherent optical systems, with high energy efficiency.

The year 2023 also marked the Company's entry into the switch and router market, through the partnership entered into with the companies UfiSpace (from Taiwan) and IP Infusion (from the USA). The expansion of Padtec's operations and portfolio of products, services, and solutions takes place through the offer of a complete solution for this equipment throughout Latin America, combining UfiSpace's line of switches and routers, which meets the trends of disaggregated and open networks, and IP Infusion's software (operating system), recognized worldwide as an advanced solution for the disaggregated networks standard. At this moment, Padtec has completed the Anatel (the National Telecommunication Agency in Brazil) certifications for some of these products and already have several proofs of concept with customers.

It is important to mention that the implementation of 5G networks in Brazil is a journey that requires investments on several fronts, such as the construction of communication networks throughout the country that will support the infrastructure for the next generation of applications and new broadband services. New investments in high-capacity optical networks will become a greater demand for solutions that allow greater connectivity and better quality in data services. In this sense, in February 2024, to expand its portfolio of 5G solutions, Padtec announced the development of joint efforts with Parallel Wireless to offer Parallel Wireless GreenRAN™ solutions to mobile network operators in Brazil and Latin America.

• Company's results in 2023

Padtec's business model is divided into business units (or "BUs"), the Equipment/DWDM unit, which since 2023 offers switches and routers, and the Services, Software, and Platforms unit. The Equipment/DWDM business unit encompasses the projects developed for each customer, considering their realities and needs. The sales cycle of these projects is relatively extensive and any changes in "sales" may take more than 45 days to be accounted for in the Company's revenues.

The results obtained by Padtec in recent years confirm its ability to adapt to changes in the scenarios experienced by the telecommunications ecosystem and to the various macroeconomic and geopolitical challenges, always maintaining discipline in the allocation of its resources. In 2023, total net revenues grew 0.8% compared to 2022. In the analysis of the mix between revenues obtained with DWDM equipment, there was a reduction of 6.5% in Brazil and an increase of 2.5% in the foreign market. On the other hand, revenues from Services, Software, and Platforms showed a significant growth of 38.5%. The growth in revenue recurrence and greater diversity in its origins contributed to the evolution of this revenue item, and also to a 25.7% increase in operating cash generation measured by EBITDA, which reached R$56.0 million in 2023.

From the second quarter of 2023, the market and the telecommunications equipment value chain began to show signs of saturation. Retractions in sales (and impacts on revenues) were felt by several competitors operating in this ecosystem, justified by the slowdown of ISP growth projects in Brazil and in countries where interest rates were increased to contain the effects of inflation. It was also noticed the effect of the decrease in the stocks of telecommunications operators that increased their inventories of equipment and capacity in the years of the COVID-19 pandemic. There will certainly still be effects of this adjustment in the value chain throughout the year 2024.

Seeking to minimize these effects, Padtec continues its efforts to increase the diversity of sales and revenue sources in products and equipment, supported by the entry of the line of routers, new DWDM platforms and new contracts and solutions in the area of Services, Software and Platforms.

For long-term organic strategic planning, the Company will continue to pursue the development of the international market, adding new products and services in addition to new geographies and sales channels. For the domestic market, in Brazil, Padtec continues to expand the line of products in the core in photonics and new lines of equipment such as routers and other products that can complement the portfolio to increase participation in customer purchases. In the Services, Software, and Platforms vertical, the Company is seeking exponential growth with the launch of new platforms and software that will contribute to improving telecommunications, data operations, and infrastructure support both in the segment of internet providers and to customers who start using private network solutions.

On the inorganic front, Padtec remains attentive to opportunities that can accelerate the growth and accumulation of skills and technologies both in Brazil and in international markets. In addition to the combination of organic and inorganic growth, it will be necessary to develop financing models to support sales growth in the various markets. Currently, the Company already has its own credit rights investment fund, or FIDC (in conjunction with BNDES), and will need to develop similar financing structures to support sales in the international market. For international financing, Padtec is working with local and international development agencies as well as commercial banks specialized in this type of transaction.

Revenues from the DWDM business unit in Brazil in 2023 decreased by 6.5% compared to the previous year, those from sales in the foreign market increased by 2.5% between 2022 and 2023 and those from the Services, Software, and Platforms segment were 38.5% higher than in the previous year.

Although revenues recorded in 4Q23 did not maintain the growth trend of the last quarter of the year compared to the previous quarter, as has been happening at Padtec in recent years, the compound annual growth rate (CAGR) between 2023 and 2020 for the DWDM business unit in Brazil is 8.6%. The CAGR 2020 – 2023 of 45.7% for the DWDM business unit in the foreign market proves the Company's strategy for international expansion of its activities.

Gross Profit

Although the Company recorded only a slight evolution in its revenues between 2023 and 2022, the control of its production costs proved to be effective, proving the Company's operational efficiency, which translates into increases in gross profit and gross margin.

In 2023, gross profit reached R$131.3 million (a record<sup>2</sup> in Padtec's history), 12.3% higher than in the previous year, R$116.9 million. Gross margin grew 3.6 percentage points, from 32.0% in 2022 to 35.6% in 2023.

Operating Expenses/Incomes

Administrative, commercial, and research and development expenses totaled R$104.2 million in 2023, an increase of 8.1% over expenses recorded in 2022, R$96.4 million.

Changes in the classifications of provisions for tax, labor, civil contingencies, and provisions for amounts receivable from customers, payments of indemnities in labor claims, in addition to the receipt of R$7.4 million related to indemnities in civil lawsuits to which Ideiasnet S.A. was a party contributed to other operating revenues of R$3.1 million in 2023.

Financial Result

At a shareholders' meeting held in 3Q23, the reduction of the capital stock was approved to fully absorb the balance of accumulated losses recorded in the Financial Statements of December 31, 2022. This was a pure accounting operation, with no change in the Company's shareholders' equity, and may provide additional benefits to shareholders, such as enabling dividend distributions.

The Company will propose for resolution of the Annual General Meeting the distribution to shareholders of R$3.7 million as a minimum mandatory dividend, corresponding to dividends of R$0.046 per share.

EBITDA

The Company considers EBITDA, which corresponds to net income, plus income tax and social contribution, depreciation and amortization expenses, and financial results, an important parameter for investors, as it provides relevant information on their operating results and profitability.

Debt, cash, and capital structure

The Company ended 2023 with loans and financing in the amount of R$112.5 million, composed of Banco Votorantim's NCE and credit lines taken with FINEP (eight contracts entered into in 2020, 2021, and 2022) whose funds are destined for investments in new products, software, and technology developments, being released following the disbursements and evidence of the execution of the strategic innovation plan of subsidiary Padtec S.A. In 2023, FINEP released R$18.9 million.

The funds raised in the debt restructuring completed in April were allocated to the settlement of loans and financing that were outstanding with private institutions and debentures issued by Padtec S.A. in 2020. This restructuring reduced the total amount of indebtedness in 2Q23 by 16.1% compared to the outstanding position in December 2022.
